2. Need and Rationale for the Scheme

- a) All Transferor Companies are wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Transferee Company, and the amalgamation of Transferor Companies with Transferee Company would inter alia have the following benefits:
- Greater efficiency in overall combined business including economies of scale, efficiency of operations, efficient cash flow management eliminating inter-corporate dependencies.
 - Optimum utilisation of resources by pooling in managerial, technical and administrative resources and efforts.
 - Reduction in legal and regulatory compliance enabling better compliance efficiency at the consolidated level.
 - Certain pharmaceutical products manufactured by one of the transferor company i.e. SPML are sold in the regulated markets are exported through Transferee Company and this amalgamation would further help in consolidation of exports.
- b) Over the years, the Transferee Company has built up significant reserves through transfer of profits to the general reserve in accordance with provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 and rules notified thereunder, namely, the Companies (Transfer of Profits to Reserves) Rules, 1975.
- c) While the excess reserves can be profitably utilized for the Company's overall growth strategy, the management is of the view that even after considering the foreseeable investments required for opportunities over the next few years, the fund represented by the General Reserve are in excess of the Transferee Company's current and anticipated operational needs.

3. Scheme not detrimental to Shareholders of the Company

The Committee discussed and deliberated upon background, rationale and features of the Scheme and noted that, in its independent evaluation, the Scheme is not detrimental to the interests of the shareholders of the Company.

C. Recommendations of the Committee

The committee and after due deliberation taking into consideration the Scheme, its rationale and its impact on the shareholders of the Company, in particular the fact that the Scheme is not detrimental to the shareholders of the Scheme, the committee recommends the Scheme to the Board of Directors for approval.
